White Mouse

White mice of the field variety must be somewhat of a rarity, for with all the millions of mice around this year the first pure white, albino mouse to be reported in this district was brought into the Advocate office this week by Norman Soder, who farms east and north of town.

Norman noticed the mouse while working one of his fields and managed to catch it, although not without the mouse losing its life in the process. The pink-eyed, pure white creature even had a white tail and was probably one of those freaks of nature, a true albino.

Chalk Up Wins At Olds Races

Commodore Allen's chuck wagon outfit, driven by Hank Willard, last year's world champion, tied with the Johnny Phelan outfit for first place at the races held at Olds last week. All the top chuck wagon outfits were represented.

In the horse races at Olds, Hank Willard's mare, Alice Aurelius, easily won the half-mile race and his horse, Vivo Tonto, placed second in the Olds Derby. Both horses were ridden by Millie Hamilton, the competent girl jockey.

The next chuck wagon race in which Commodore Allen's outfit will compete will be at Hand Hills, when Hank Willard will again "hoot them around the barrels."

Nineteen ladies of the O.O.R.P. lodge motored to Brooks on Wednesday May 21 to represent Vulcan at the No. 5 District Council meeting. Other points represented were Calgary, Red Deer, Olds, Okotoks and Brooks lodges, with a fine representation, and a very successful meeting was held. Lodge History Books were also judged, with Olds again winning first and Vulcan second. The Vulcan History Book will be sent in to the Supreme Convention to be judged again with the firsts from other districts.

Guide Official Pays Visit Here

Mrs. F. Blake of High River, District Commissioner for Girl Guides visited the 1st Vulcan Company and 1st Vulcan Brownie Pack, in the Armouries Monday evening. The Company and Pack were inspected, and the Guide ceremonies included the enrollment as a tenderfoot of Marjorie Bride and Joyce Jordan. The Ember, which was received by the Vulcan Company, at the Guide convention in March was passed on to the Brownies. The girls entertained their mothers and guests with a short program of tap dancing, singing and recitations. At the close of the program the Commissioner was presented with a bouquet, and the meeting closed with the singing of Taps.

Mrs. J. P. O'Connell entertained Guides Commissioner, Mrs. F. Blake of High River and the mothers of the Guide Company and Brownie Pack, at tea, at her home, following Monday evening's program, at the Armouries.

Youth Awarded

Mountbatten Medal

Of much interest here was the announcement Monday that Robert Byron Wardle of Tilley had been awarded the Mountbatten Medal, the first to be awarded annually, for his rescue last summer of little Frances Burchak of Vulcan. Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Burchak, was visiting relatives at Tilley at the time of the accident, and had fallen into a disused cistern. Only the prompt action of the 16 year old Boy Scout in going into the 10 ft. deep water-filled cistern, and bringing her immediately to the surface saved the life of the tot. She was unconscious when brought out and artificial respiration was used for some time before she began normal breathing. The award received by young Wardle is unique, in that it is the first time anyone has received this citation and medal.

Social Evening

For E.U.B. Groups

A social evening of ball games and a weiner roast was enjoyed by the Youth Fellowship and Fellowship groups of the E.U.B. church, Friday evening. Guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. T. E. Jesske of Medicine Hat, Conference Superintendent, who delivered a Fireside Service. Later films were shown at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Schierman and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Budd motored to Lake McGregor Saturday to attend a birthday picnic in honor of Mrs. Charles Leback. Also present from Champion were Mr. and Mrs. C. Leback and family, and Mrs. Henry Leback, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hilz and Misses Marion Leback and Malita Shetley of Lethbridge.

Champion Beats Vulcan in Final

Large Crowd at Champion Baseball Tournament

(Champion Correspondent)

Ideal weather attracted a large crowd to the annual baseball tournament sponsored by the Champion baseball club on May 24, with the grandstand filled and cars completely circling the ball diamond.

The tournament was won by the Champion team, who easily defeated Vulcan in the final game of the day.

The first game saw Champion defeat Carmangay and in the second game Vulcan defeated Blackie.

Champion beat Vulcan in the final game, leading by a 20-7 score when the game was called on account of darkness. Mervyn Smith started the game in the box for Champion and was replaced by Eud Siler in the second inning. S. Fassoli was the catcher for Champion.

The starting Vulcan battery was E. Enn Dann to Howard Spaeth. Spaeth received a badly injured finger from a foul tipoff and was replaced by Art Pederson. Dann was replaced by Gibson at the half-way mark.

Calgary Visitors

At Rebekah Lodge

Cloverleaf Rebekah Lodge, No. 37 entertained 74 visitors from Naomi Lodge, No. 12, Calgary, at the regular meeting, Monday, May 19. At the same time the Lodge was favored by the official visit from Sister Dorothy Scott, Warden, of the Rebekah Assembly of Alberta. Other visitors present were Sister M. Gilkes, P.P. of the Rebekah Assembly; Sister A. Wenstrom, D.D.P. of District No. 13; Bro. J. Carrington, D.G.M. of the Grand Lodge of Alberta; W. Williams, G.M. of the Grand Lodge, Calgary. All the visiting Sisters were presented with corsages, as was Sister Eva Bowie of Cloverleaf Lodge, by Noble Grand, Sister, Lillian Lancaster.

Naomi Lodge degree team exemplified the Rebekah Degree, which was highly enjoyed by all.

A delicious lunch was served by the ladies of the committee.

Bid Farewell To

Rev. Fr. Ritter

Some 125 parishioners and friends of Rev. Fr. H. F. Ritter gathered in the parish hall of St. Andrew's Catholic church Thursday evening last, to bid him farewell. Sponsored by the Champion and Vulcan parishes, the evening was spent in playing Court Whist, after which a presentation of a purse of money was made to Father Ritter by Mr. Joe Gerdner, Sr. on behalf of the Vulcan congregation, and by Mr. J. Keenan of Champion from the people of that district.

Rev. E. A. Justice of St. Aldhelm's Anglican church very ably expressed the regret of the whole community in losing so highly an esteemed citizen, one has served the community so well, for the past 15 years. Mr. Justice extended to Father Ritter the best wishes of all for happiness in his new post as Assistant Pastor at St. Mary's Cathedral, Calgary.

Lunch was served by the ladies, to bring the evening to a conclusion.

Hotelmen Offer

Scholarship Plan

The largest and broadest scholarship plan ever offered to Albertans was outlined Tuesday by A. G. Swinarton, of Fort Macleod, Alberta Hotel Association President. Designed to assist several students annually, the program is sponsored by the licensed hotelmen of the province, through the Association. Mr. Swinarton revealed details of the plan during his presidential address at the A.H.A. 52nd annual convention at Edmonton.

Mr. Swinarton said that $15,000 would be available for scholarships this year. He added that the amount to be spent annually in future years would be double the amount spent on this year's scholarships.

Friends will regret to see Cpl. Hurst and his family leave Vulcan, but the move is in the nature of a promotion. Cpl. Hurst will be in charge of the Blairmore detachment, which has a normal complement of three men.

Replacing Cpl. Hurst at Vulcan will be Constable P. J. Molyneux, who is presently stationed at Manyberries.

West Oil Well

Still Drilling

The latest issue of the Weekly Oil Bulletin published by C. O. Nickle at Calgary, gives the information that Ranchmen's Home-Steak-Seaboard A.I. venture, between the Corner Store and Mossleigh, is now drilling at 5,312 feet, and Shell-C&E No. 1 west of Vulcan is now drilling at a depth of 7,468 feet.

Husky-Phillips-Vulcan No. 1 about five miles south-east of Vulcan, is now rigging.

A record high return from petroleum and natural gas rights on a quarter-section Crown Reserve parcel of land was received by the provincial treasury on May 22 when rights on the 160 acre parcel sold to the Texaco Exploration Co. for the sum of $3,110,000, or $19,437.50 per acre. The quarter-section is located in the Bonnie Glen area, 32 miles south-west of Edmonton.

In the six-day period ending May 22, 21 out of 23 wells completed in Alberta were chalked up as oil or gas successes. Since the first of this year there have been 544 wells completed in Alberta, of which 329 were oil wells, 38 gas producers and 177 dry holes.

Tip Top Revue on Monday, June 2

An event that always attracts a large audience, Jack Taylor's Tip Top Revue of 1952 will be presented at the Vulcan Armouries on Monday, June 2, at 8:15 p.m.

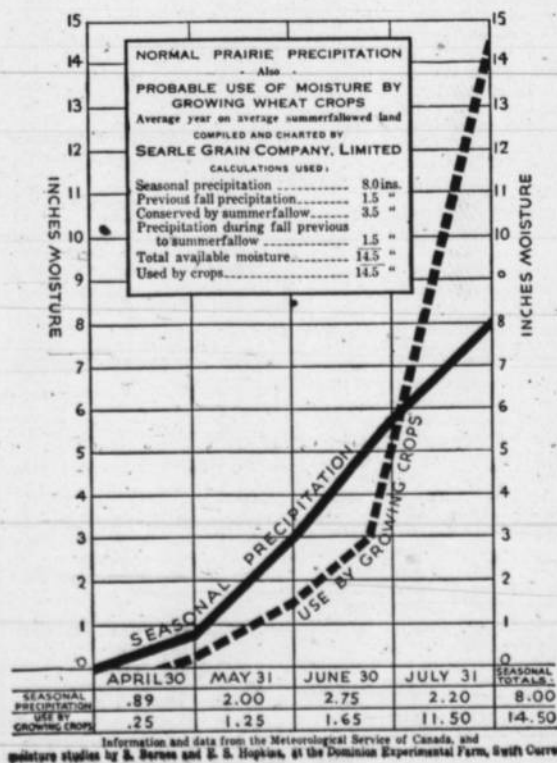

Mr. Taylor, tap dancing, banjo and guitar instructor, will present his Vulcan and district pupils in a colorful and entertaining program, with outstanding Calgary artists adding variety to the show.

The program will include solo, duet and group dance routines by the pupils, feature dance and instrumental numbers by Jack Taylor; piano accompaniment and numbers by the popular Jac Freidenberg; Al Hammond & Co., an acrobatic act described as "sensational"; and appearing in Vulcan for the first time; Brenda and Linda Gray, those Calgary twins with the educated feet; Carol Ludwig, dancer supreme; and Roger Hall with his banjo and electric guitar.

Tickets are now on sale for the big variety show and Vulcan and district residents are assured of an evening of real entertainment.

students who otherwise would be deprived of their advanced education is provided by the program. A feature of the Alberta Hotel Association's Scholarship Plan is the fact that it will not be confined to University courses. For example, scholarships may be granted to those pursuing the fields of agriculture, oil, forestry, mechanics, dress-making, nursing, teaching and other vocations.

The first A.H.A. Scholarships will be awarded following release of Grade XII departmental examinations. This year all scholarships will be tenable at the University of Alberta but this will not be the policy for future years.

Loyalty

One of the most important factors in the progress and development of any community is loyalty. Without it a community stagnates.

Canadian communities are built around the home, the school and the church. Loyalty to each of these great institutions is vital.

Today more and more the home as the centre of family activity is on the decline. Young people are finding their recreation elsewhere; father and mother, too, are engrossed in social and community activities at the expense of home life. The traditional school "homework" that once kept the young fry at home in the evenings has, in some degree at least, been replaced by study periods during school hours when such work is presumably completed. Once the home was responsible for teaching the boys and girls the elements of religion, community consciousness, teamwork, right attitudes. Now in large measure this responsibility has been handed over to the church and the schools. Loyalty to the home is needed today as never before because the home cannot be replaced in its effect on the moral, spiritual and social development of young people by either of the other institutions of our democratic way of life.

Loyalty to the church means loyalty to all that is good in this modern civilization of ours. Through its spiritual and social programs the church of whatever denomination can influence greatly the life of the community. Loyalty to the church means more than faithful attendance, giving support financially; it means active participation in the work the church is doing, it involves loyalty to the Christian principles upon which is founded our democratic way of life.

Loyalty to the school means giving the teaching staff every encouragement, seeing to it that they have the tools to do the great job that is theirs, helping young people attending school to get the most out of their opportunity to obtain the fundamentals of an education. It involves appreciation of the fact that education is a continuing process, going on all through life. It involves support of other educational facilities in the community. It requires thought and time and effort being expended on the part of every citizen to see to it that his community has a well rounded program of cultural and recreational activities.

There are other loyalties, too, that make for a good community. Loyalty to the businesses of the community is important. Buying in one's hometown is one way of expressing such loyalty in action, for the more local businesses are patronized, the better the services they can render. A fine example of disloyalty is visiting a nearby city and loading the car with groceries, clothing and other goods which might as well have been purchased in one's hometown.

Loyalty to community organizations enters the picture. A citizen should belong to some organization or even several (too many spreads energies too thinly) and then give his best to make the organization a live one contributing something worthwhile to the community.

Then there is loyalty to the community itself. This means seeing the good as well as the bad: criticizing, if need be, but constructively, and doing some work to improve the community as well. Loyalty means boosting, not knocking; working, not nagging; thinking, not just sitting; solving problems, not ignoring them; active participation, not indifference. Loyalty is a positive thing and thus cannot help but make for true progress.

Are you loyal to your community and to the institutions and organizations that make it up? Only you can honestly answer that question. If the answer is negative, what are you going to do about it?

Watery Grave For Toronto

(Toronto Globe and Mail)

The steady rise of Lake Ontario should persuade Torontonians to contemplate the possibility that some day their city will be covered with water. This is not likely to happen tomorrow, or the day after; there is no need for anxious citizens to start swarming up the Bank of Commerce, or building an ark in the basement. But there it is; if lake levels continue to rise, Toronto will in time become another Atlantis.

Most people feel that with the inundation of Toronto, humanity would have lost something precious. The lamp of civilization might not be extinguished, but would assuredly be damned, by the dissolution of a community renowned for its slick parks and well-tended stockbrokers, its pretty edifices and imposing women. Toronto, in a pinch, could get along without the world; but it is hard to see how the world could get along without Toronto.

Wild Oats in '52

Despite new and efficient tillage machines and a variety of selective weed-killing chemicals, the Wild Oat continues to be the most expensive weed in Western Canada. The control of wild oats, however, is not a lost cause. This year, with Spring arriving much earlier than usual, presents farmers with a golden opportunity to destroy a large number of wild oats.

Established Facts. Research has established the following important facts with respect to the growth of wild oats. (1) At maturity, the wild oat seed has a strong dormancy. In other words, it must after-ripen before it will germinate. (2) The seed must be dried before its dormancy can be broken. (3) Wild oats germinate at low temperatures. It has been found that few seeds sprout at temperatures above 50°F. Conditions this Spring have been ideal for drying and after-ripening wild oat seeds present on or near the surface of the soil. Consequently, many of these seeds, when buried by cultivation, will grow almost immediately. Most farmers, therefore, are likely to get a heavy growth of wild oats on infested fields this Spring.

Key to Control. The key to effective control lies in the fact that wild oat seeds grow well at low temperatures, and that few germinate after the soil temperature exceeds 50°F. In many districts of Western Canada a soil temperature of 50°F will be reached very early this year. Consequently, farmers who cultivate their infested fields periodically until the soil warms up to this temperature will be able to kill a great many wild oats. On the basis of past field results, it is safe to predict that crops which are seeded after this time this Spring will be almost free of wild oats in 1952. Yes, indeed, this year looks like a good one in which to "catch up" a lot of wild oats.

Detailed information on wild oat control is contained in our newly-revised circular called "Wild Oat Control by Cultural Methods." You can obtain a free copy of this bulletin from the local agent of the Line Elevator Companies listed above.

Order Trees Now

Alberta farmers are becoming more and more aware of the value of properly planned shelterbelts around the farm buildings in the fields and along the roadsides. Last year, between two and three hundred thousand trees were planted, this spring the number of trees planted increased to one million, nine hundred thousand. Alberta is a large province, the total area in farm land being 44,459,632 acres, which according to the 1951 census was divided into 84,315 farm units, actually 1,900,000 trees when divided over this vast area is a very insignificant number. We are only commencing to scratch the surface as far as tree planting is concerned.

Probably there is not one farmer in Alberta of the 84,000 who are not aware of the usefulness of trees, and yet it is possible in every community to find farmsteads with no trees or with inadequate shelterbelts. I am aware every farmer whose farmstead is well protected with a shelterbelt derives pleasure and satisfaction from it that cannot be calculated in dollars and cents. This has been brought out to me on several different occasions when I have visited such farms. As the farmer shows one around, it is not difficult to notice how much pleasure his entire family has received from the protection and beauty awarded by the shelterbelt.

The value of shelterbelts are not intangible, as tests conducted by officials of the Lethbridge Experimental Station on Craig Pearce's farm during 1951 in the Drumheller district clearly show. Accurate yield tests were taken in the fields where single row caragana shelterbelts were established. The yield of wheat at 30, 60, 90, and 120 feet from the shelterbelt was determined and found to be on the average 58.3, 58.1, 57.7 and 48.6 bushels per acre. These yield increases due to the sheltering effect of the hedge were not as great in 1951 as they were the previous two years, because of the abundance of rainfall last year.

Trees are available to the farmers free of charge from the Forest Nursery Station at Indian Head, Saskatchewan or from the Provincial Government Nursery at Oliver.

Your local district agriculturist will assist you in any way possible concerning planning of shelterbelts, or in making application for trees. Application for trees should be made now if they are to be planted next spring.

FARM HOMES GO MODERN

The old "forty-acre" farm kitchen is going modern. In the current transformation of Canadian farm homes, the kitchen seems to be the room getting the most attention, writes Ethel Chapman, who was for many years woman's editor of Farmer's Magazine, in the current issue of C-I-L. Oval. Miss Chapman has found that within the last few years big farm kitchens have been divided to provide a modern kitchen-dining room with a separate utility room space. Kitchen cupboards are be-where the men can wash-up, installed with such enthusiasm where the laundry can be done, or there's scarcely a spot left to hang a little pig warmed and fed in an a calendar.

Central heating is transforming a farm home architecture, according to Miss Chapman. It is no longer necessary to keep a room closed for warmth, so partitions are being taken out to throw two rooms into one or to make wide archways joining halls and living rooms. Windows are being enlarged and new windows added. The picture-window is finding real popularity.

Kits for Asian, Latin American Midwives

The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF), is supplying 2000 midwifery kits to countries in Asia and Latin America. The kits (as shown above) will be used by villages' midwives on whom women in those parts of the world are almost wholly dependent. For the first time these kits will have at hand the essential instruments, medicine and material for modern midwifery practice. They weigh about fifteen pounds, and can be carried on the midwife's back or separated and carried by hand.

Weed Control With 2,4-D In Cereals

(Lethbridge Experimental Station)

The farmer now has at his disposal an extra "tool", in the form of 2,4-D, for combating most of the broad-leaved weeds which have not been killed by cultural practices immediately prior to or after seeding. Present conditions indicate the possibility of prolific weed growth in the grain crops this season, and the usefulness of 2,4-D should not be overlooked.

To obtain greatest effectiveness for the least expenditure, several factors must be considered. The machine to be used for spraying or dusting should be properly calibrated so that sufficient chemical can be applied to give an effective weed kill without overdosing. The weeds present in the crop must be known for a proper treatment to be given, as not all weeds are equally susceptible, nor is any one kind of weed equally susceptible to all stages of growth. Generally speaking, weeds are most readily killed by 2,4-D in the younger stages of growth. Such weeds as lamb's quarters, stinkweed, tumbling mustard, and wild mustard are relatively susceptible up to late pre-bloom growth, whereas others, such as Russian thistle, red root pigweed, and flaxweed rapidly decrease in susceptibility so that at the pre-bloom stage of growth they are practically resistant to the normal and safe dosage rates used in a growing crop.

A knowledge of the effects of 2,4-D on cereal grain crops is important if a good job of spraying is to be obtained. It is essential that the greatest possible number of weeds be killed without causing injury to the crop. The crop can be adversely affected and yields reduced by overdosing or improperly timed applications.

Wheat and barley will suffer least injury if treated after the three-leaf stage but before the late shot-blade or early boot. Oats differ slightly in that serious yield reduction may result during the period when the plants are stooling, and oats should not be sprayed in the period from approximately two weeks after emergence to four weeks after emergence.

Flax differs from other cereals in its reaction to 2,4-D, being least susceptible to injury when young (having 10-15 leaves) and resistance decreases thereafter. Under no circumstances is it wise to treat flax after first buds appear. Beside causing a reduction in flax yield, improper timing or overdosing for weed control in flax is almost certain to cause a fairly severe stunting of the crop, and to delay the maturity by a week or more.

The farmer must consider all factors if he expects to use 2,4-D successfully. Weeds should be treated with the chemical while still reasonably young, but no treatment should be applied when the crop is likely to suffer severe injury.

Haying For Quality and Yield

As the haying season is drawing near it will be worth while to consider some of the methods of getting the most out of the hay crop. The first consideration is the time of cutting. The tendency is to cut hay too late, resulting in a loss in feed value. The percentages of protein and phosphorus decrease, while the crude fibre increases. In one test, steers fed on alfalfa hay alone, required more than twice as much hay cut in the seed stage as hay cut in the bud stage to put on 100 pounds gain. Cutting too early results in a reduced yield, so to obtain the highest yield of nutrients, a balance must be made between stages.

At the Lethbridge Experimental Station the best time to cut alfalfa has been when the field is in 1/10 to 1/4 bloom. Red clover and alsike clover gave best results when cut in full bloom and sweet clover when it was in the bud stage.

Bromegrass and crested wheatgrass were best when cut soon after they headed out, before the first flowers appeared, while timothy was best when allowed to just come into bloom. A hay mixture gave best results when cut when the predominant legume was at the right stage.

Harvesting of the crop as quickly as possible when ready prevented loss of nutrients through exposure to dew, rain and sun. It was not desirable to leave the cut hay in the swath for more than a few hours in good drying weather, before it was windrowed. Stacking or baling as soon as the hay was dry enough for safe storage proved very important.

Millions of Mice!

Mice! Mice. Millions of mice chewing everything in sight. But they don't like plants or seeds or bulbs or corms that have been treated with D.D.T. Several early gardeners in Lethbridge have made this observation and pass it on for what it may be worth.

Noticing his tulip-tips being eaten off as they emerged, a grower treated the area with 3 per cent D.D.T. dust to get the cutworms. No cutworms were present but the damage stopped. Other damage, notably the digging out of germinating sweet peas and early garden peas, pointed to mice as the culprits. A later bed of tulips showed the foraging of this pest. Being of an experimental turn of mind, the grower D.D.T. dusted half the patch. The treated half grew normally, while the mice kept the untreated half eaten to ground level. The peas were sown, a light strip of D.D.T. dust placed on the soil above the row and the mice left them in peace.

Another householder got a surprise when he opened his storage of dahlia tubers and gladiolus corms. Mice had obtained entry during the winter. They fed freely on both tubers and corms. But the gladi, when put in storage, had been dusted with D.D.T. for thrip control. The dahlia tubers were riddled but there was not even a tooth mark on the gladiolus.

Other insecticides have been used as repellents for animals. Nicotine sulphate, known more commonly as Black Leaf 40 and used for insect control, is also widely used to protect shrubs and plants from dog damage. And from Iowa comes a note that lindane treatment of corn for wireworm control protects plantings against pheasants.

Most gardeners use the 3 per cent D.D.T. dust for a wide variety of insects. This added use may prove of value during our present mice plague.

Odd Letter Cancels Bill Owing Firm

This remarkable answer came in recently to a Canadian manufacturer from a customer whose bill has been long overdue. "It was so good that we marked the bill 'Paid in full,'" the company said.

Dear Sir:—
In reply to your recent and more recent requests to send you a cheque for my bill due to you, I wish to inform you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to take your request seriously.

My present financial condition is due to the effect of Dominion Laws, Provincial Laws, Municipal Laws, County Laws, Corporation Laws, Traffic Laws, Liquor Laws, Mother-in-Laws, and outlaws, all of which have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public.

Through these laws, I am compelled to pay a Business Tax, Amusement Tax, Gas Tax, Income Tax, Excise Tax, School Tax, Hydro Tax, and syn-Tax. In addition to these irritating taxes, I am forced by a strong arm of the law to get a business license, a city license, a radio license, a provincial license, a dog license, a motor license, a liquor license—not to mention a marriage license.

I am also requested and required to contribute to every society and organization which the inventive genius of man is capable of bringing into life—to the society of St. Jean Baptiste, the Women's Relief, the Near East Relief, the Unemployment Relief, and the Gold Diggers' Home, also every hospital and every charitable institution in the city: the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the White Cross, the Green Cross, the Purple Cross, the Flaming Cross, and the Double Cross.

For my own safety I am required to carry life insurance, liability insurance, burglary insurance, accident insurance, hail insurance, and the business insurance. The government has now so governed my business that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it.

I am inspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to provide inexhaustible means and supply of money for every known need, desire, and hope of the human race. To beg, borrow, or steal money to give away, and if I refuse to donate to each and all, I am cursed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied about, held up, held down, and robbed until I am nearly ruined.

I can fore-tell honestly, that failing a MIRACLE, you won't be paid just now, and the only reason I am holding on to life is simply just to see what is coming next."

The Best Grain Drier

When Mother Nature is in the mood, she can provide an unequalled grain drying service. This is proven by what happened this spring on the Canadian prairies.

Bad weather last autumn resulted in millions of acres of grain having to be carried through the winter unthreshed. A wet spring would have been disastrous. About 200 million bushels of tough and damp grain had been delivered to the Wheat Board. If the spring had been wet, further huge quantities of out-of-condition grain would have gone to the board.

As things turned out, the month of April and the first two weeks of May were unusually dry. Wheat that had a moisture content of 18 per cent last fall was dried down to around 9 per cent by the sun and the prairie breezes. The grain producers got a real break in that respect—and so did the Wheat Board.

RADIO BUOYS FOR SUBMARINES

Within the next two years all British submarines will be fitted with a new type of marker buoy which can be sent to the surface. The buoy has a radar reflector, a small visual reflector, a radio transmitter for sending distress signals and a telescopic mast which extends automatically on surfacing. Experiments with the buoy were begun shortly after the January 1950 sinking of the Truculent.

District News

MILO

Thieves are again about in the Milo district. Last week (Thomson's store was broken into and every cigarette on the premises was stolen, even those in the show case. There seems to be no clues as to the identity of the culprits.

Of interest to people in this community is the birth of a son, Daniel Fred to Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Shafer of Portland, Ore. Mrs. Shafer is the former Lois Umschied of Milo.

On May 23 Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thomson Jr. entertained the community by putting on a wedding dance. The hall was so crowded with friends and well-wishers that there was hardly any room to dance, but a good time seemed to be had by all. Fraser's orchestra supplied very danceable music. A presentation of a gift of money was made on behalf of the crowd by Gene Jones and was ably responded to by the bride and groom.

Miss Jean Thomson had four days leave from her duties as a nurse in the Banff springs hospital and was able to attend her brother and sister-in-law's wedding dance on Friday night.

Mrs. Nellie Burk was honored on her 75th birthday last week when friends and relations dropped in for the afternoon to wish her well.

Bob Prentice is home at present on a 30-day leave from the air force.

It looks like one of the farmers' pet dreams is really going to come true to those living east of town. The big news is "The Power is Coming", a new version of the old Scotch ballad. Surveyors for the Calgary Power Company were at work in the district last week and hopes are running high that before long farm homes can be modernized and made as comfortable as their city neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Moir and daughter Sheila of Picture Butte, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Beechman over the weekend. Mr. Moir is now manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia of Picture Butte. Sheila who is ten years old, won honors at the Lethbridge music festival. She rendered a solo at the United Church on Sunday morning.

The first sod was turned on the new Milo school site and excavation will be completed within a few days. Present plans are for a six room school and auditorium. It looks as though Milo is due for a busy summer.

RED CROSS

Clean-up day at the Highland cemetery will be held June 4th, and all interested parties are invited to be present to assist in this work.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fulton and Lypell accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. Fulton were Calgary visitors last week.

The regular meeting of the Red Cross F.U.A. and W.A. will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Dunham, June 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Steers of Blackie were district visitors over the weekend, visiting at the Love homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuler of Prince Albert, Sask. and Mr. and Mrs. A. Scharff of Saskatoon have been visitors at the John Hanna and Pete Schuler homes.

Miss Marie Plourd spent the long weekend with her parents at Creston, B.C.

ARROWWOOD

Ethelyn and Adella Beagle spent the weekend of the 24th with Mr. and Mrs. R. Culp.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Henry and family have moved to their new home in Vulcan. Mr. Henry is working for Mr. Willard at the International Agency.

We are very sorry to learn that Mrs. A. Phillips has been moved to Holy Cross hospital in Calgary. We hope she can soon be home again.

Wilbur Pobst spent a few days last week in the Arrowwood district renewing old acquaintances before returning to his home in B. C.

The F.W.U.A. held their regular meeting on Wednesday, May 21. They had a very interesting display on Guide work. Each girl gave a little talk on some part of their work. Then they did a square dance for the ladies. A lovely lunch was served and the afternoon was enjoyed by all.

The Brethren Church have been having special meetings from May 18 to June 1. These were held every evening with the exception of Saturday's under the leadership of Rev. Northrop of the Irricana Church. Special afternoon classes were held for the Sunday school classes.

Work has got under way on the new United Church. They are getting the basement dug with several men bringing their tractors and equipment. Also a number of men are digging down the sides to make them straight.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller have gone to Minneapolis for a short holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fletcher are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Ward on their return trip from Rochester.

Word was received this week of the death of Mrs. Susie A. Brubaker in Calgary.

Mrs. Brubaker was born in Abolene, Kansas, and moved to Consul, Sask. In 1936 she came to Calgary and shortly after moved to Arrowwood. She lived here till recently when she returned to Calgary to live in the Bowness district.

Surviving are three sons, Everett and John of Calgary, Floyd of Washington; two daughters, Mrs. Lula Frankhoney of Calgary, Mrs. Bertha Robinson, Washington; also 20 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Calgary at Gooder Bros. funeral home with Rev. Willard McDaniell officiating.

The 24th was a day when people all went their own way and enjoyed the different events. Several families took their picnic dinner and went to the Horse Show in High River. Also some attended the sports day held in Gleichen, while still others went to Banff and attended the hill climb.

EASTWAY

This district was well represented at both Vulcan and Blackie school sports, Friday, May 23, and at the High River sports on Saturday. Dale Wyatt won the crest for having the most points in the boys' "C" class at the track meet in Vulcan.

Dennis Tangeon won the crest for the boys' class "A" at the Foothills Unit track meet held at Blackie.

Ken Grondin went to Willow Bunch, Sask., to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Leonce Beauchene.
